“ I knew Frank through the UNO Awakening Group. He was probably the first Baptist I ever met and the first one I called friend. I don't recall ever seeing him get made or putting anyone down. One memory I have of Frank is the time our group was helping freshmen move into the UNO dorm. He was sweating and carrying maybe 4 suitcases/bags but never complained and enjoyed being able to help. Frank was also a gracious host when my road trips twice took me through Tulsa. Thanks to him I got to see the Will Rogers museum and a gun musuem. Frank had a huge heart and his unselfishness represented some of the best qualities of our group. He will be missed and not soon forgotten.

“ I have so many memories of Frank. We were lucky to have a neighborhood full of kids and we made sure we took advantage of each other. We shared many street football games together for sure! Frank was always kind, happy and helpful to everyone. Even if we were just in Frank's front yard, we were laughing and enjoying each other's company. Trips with his family to K&B, Taco Bell were such a thrill for me and during the drive, Frank always had me laughing at his quiet wit! He was never intending to be funny, he just was! His greatest gift to me was the fact that you could be yourself and feel good about yourself when with him. NEVER, did Frank ever make someone feel uncomfortable or unworthy of acceptance . You were accepted, loved, and enjoyed for who you were. He was the epitome of who the lord wants us all to be. I will always remember him and his loving qualities. He will be missed.

“ The Christmas after Dean and I were married I decided to Make a trip to see my Grandparents. I was going to Hawaii, so I thought and I knew it be awhile before coming back to the main land. I took Frank, Terry, and Tammye with me. It was raining and on the I-10 between Slidell and the state line I had a flat while passing an 18 wheeler. I eased back behind the truck and got on the shoulder of the road. All of the Christmas gifts were on top of the spare. I knew how to change the spare but not enough strength. Frank helped me get the tire out but the lugs were on too tight. We were standing and wondering what we were going to do. A truck pulled up behind and t a kind gentleman change my tire. Frank was such a helpful person and so loving.
