“ Mr. Lester, what a gem of a man, a kind & gentle soul, a gentleman. You & Kitty were the first couple I met when moving to Albany. Kitty's Flea Mart became my second home when I was home from my job. I am a better person for knowing you two & I will cherish my memories of you, Lester. I will do my best to check on Kitty. R.I.P. MY FRIEND.

“ I've known Mr Lester for as long as I've known Brian. He was always quiet and such a sweet man. He was always such a gentleman. Always wanted to give you his chair or get something for you. I'll miss him, especially football season. Kim and I always watched our Saints games together at Kim and Brian's house. I know Mr Lester, always with a smile on his face, laughing because Kim and I tend to get a little loud with the games. A bad call, we'd be screaming and yelling and fussing at the officials. A great play, we'd be screaming and yelling about what a great officials we had. Mr Lester would just smile and shake his head. Yes, he will surely be missed. Rest In Peace Mr Lester.
