“ I remember going through some hard times together. Some of the hardest that we've ever had to go through we were right there in prison sharing a bunk. I was on the top bunk and we used to talk about home and our families and laugh. As bad as our situation was at that time, we got through it and got home, where we made more memories. Amanda you were there for me through many of the hardest times of my life, and your friendship meant the world to me. I just hope that you knew how much you really meant to me, and those hard times and the memories of you I will always cherish and hold in my heart forever. Rest In Peace Sister. I love and will miss you until I see you again.
