“ I want to extend my love too this family amongst such tragedy.Hope is your best friend now . Revelation 31:4 tells us God will wipe the tears from our eyes and death will be no more and our pain will be taken away. God gives us a promise we will see our loved ones again. May you please take comfort that the God of all comfort feels your pain.

“ Again please accept my deepest condolences for the loss of these family members. Death is the opposite of life. God's original purpose is for us to live and not to die. Jesus died so we can have the hope to live forever. That will soon become a reality. At Psalms 37:8-11 he will transform this earth to beautiful paradise where we can live and not die for eternity. Jehovah God loves us and whatever he says he will do is a guarantee it will take place. Hope this brings some comfort for you all.

“ You will be deeply missed honey, I don't think you know how many people's lives you have touched in all your years. So many people are hurting right now for all of you, so I'll just ask that you wrap your beautiful new angel wings around them and try to give them some comfort and peace. You will always be in our thoughts. I'll do my best to hold Christie up for you, she sure is having a hard time she loved you so much, all of you.
