“ Praying for you to have peace and comfort. May your memories give you the comfort you'll cherish for always.
I enjoyed teaching with your mom at Hammond Eastside Primary. She was one of the first to welcome me into the school family.

“ To Ms. Welborn's family- I was saddened to read of your mother's death. I taught with her in the 90's at Hammond Eastside Primary. Every time I think of Cynthia- I see her walking backwards in the halls with a line of students following. She was so positive and the students seemed to love her. I spoke with her late last year at the Oschner Clinic in Hammond and we talked about school. She will be missed- the teaching profession has lost one of the good ones. Sincerely, Susan Hoover, retired Speech Therapist

To all of Cynthia's family: My deepest condolences on your loss. I worked with her for many years at Eastside and she was always so willing to share her ideas with other teachers. And she often spoke of her family. She loved you all and I know you'll cherish all the good memories you have of her.
