“ Noone ever understood things quite like you Mom. I miss your conversation, your friendship, and I miss the love that we had as a mother and son. I will never know a love as good as the love you had for me. I wish I had more time to show you how much you really meant to me. You were my everything, I am never going to forget your voice when you would pick up the phone anytime I needed you. It was always the highlight of any talk we shared. Just hearing you tell me how happy you were to call me your son . I wish I could have been able to tell you goodbye. Even if I never did, I know it would have been nice. But I don't regret it. I could have never been able to say goodbye to the most amazing person that I could ever know.i hope you finally found peace and can finally be at the place you belong..

“ Dawn was a Sunday school student of mine when she was in her teens. I still have a poem she wrote me. I loved her. Although we didn't see each other often I still thought of her a lot. RIP Dawn. Sorry for the families lost. Praying for everyone.
