“ Delores (Shorty) and I were friends from our early teens. I could not have had a better, sweeter friend and, although we did not see each other again for many years, to me she always remained my best friend. Back in 1955, when we were about 14, we would walk around the school yard holding hands. Friends did that then--smile. Shorty beat me to heaven but, when I get there too, I want us to take a walk around heaven holding hands. Until then, I am going to holla back at her frequently just to let her know I still love her and will miss her dearly. My heart is Jesse (a friend of mine too--smile), their children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. I will be there today, Shorty, to say farewell. Mary McCaffrey

“ Aunt Delores, my heart breaks, when my mama died you asked me, "What are we going to do without Shelda." I ask the same now, "What are we going to do without you?" You were a constant in my life since I was three. You never treated me any different from your other nieces. Who's going to help me with Daddy? If I had a question you answered it. You kept things simple in a chaotic world. Love to all my cousins and Uncle Jessie, you are all in my prayers.
