“ Dennis Mixon

*It was a cold and windy January day,
When my best buddy sadly passed away
This was the day I knew I never wanted to face
He was taken away by God's saving grace*

*I shut my eyes,
Praying it was just a dream,
But unfortunately he had been called home
The most awful thing I have ever known*

*I can still remember our last visit
The smile the jokes and tear in his eyes,
And his last words were my good buddy
"I don't want to die"*

*I can see him laying there with that Dennis smile
Because his wife was there to help him with every trail
With a great big tear rolling down his face,
He knew there was nothing he could do but set and wait.*

*He was only 62
Such young age to go
And it was all because God needed one of the best on high
That he took a special man home to be with him in the sky*

*I watched him suffer and go thru so much
There was nothing I could do,
But as he died,
A part of me died too.*

*Now as I am left to finish my course without him
I know he will be watching me thru every whim.
So go ahead my buddy fined Mom Katie and wait at the gate for me
Because it want be long I will be there you both to see.*

Until we meet again

“ One of my favorite memories is when Dennis and Thelma lived in Jackson and was expecting Angela, He worked at Angola and the inmates had him and another gard was blocked by the inmates and wanted the keys or else. The other man said no and Dennis, gave them the keys, of course the inmates did not get no where, and Dennis and the other man was called in the office and Dennis was through under the bus and they told him you can be fired Dennis said "hell no I cannot be because I quit". And he did and never looked back :). Dennis you will always be loved and missed.

“ So much are we going to miss you. I know of no one who has crossed your path will not miss your humor and witty remarks. I know of no one else who could put smiles on the faces as you could.
We are all saddened for the loss of you, but that sadness comes from our greed for not wanting to let go. Yet we are all singing praises that we know you no longer suffer from the pains you have known.
Rest in peace my brother, I never will forget the many smiles you have put on my face. Remember, these tears I shed are not from sorrow, but are tears of joy from the love you have shown. You will forever be missed and loved.
I love you my brother.
