“ He was one of my best friends in High School, I even convinced him to play football with me. He only played two years though #85. It was kind of funny watching his tall linky body running across the field. It was our Junior year and we was headed to play Independence and on the bus ride while listening to country and Lil Wayne which was kind of a funny mix but that was Eric, he gave me my first ever dip it was tiniest pinch I could possibly grab and I was like oh yeah this is good "not really". We had lots of good times together hanging out playing Call of Duty on the PlayStation. One time me and Eric was playing Modern Warfare and we decided to crank the volume all the way up to make it seem like it was real life war. We ended up blowing the speakers out. Eric took me to my first LSU game even though I was a Bama fan I couldn't pass up this great opportunity. So Mr. George drove us up to Death Valley to watch LSU kick Troy's butt. I have lots more memories of me and Eric but there is just so many. I would love to be there for all of Eric's friends and family especially Mrs. Kim and Mr. George and tell them what a great honor it was to be friends with Eric, but unfortunately being in the Marine Corps I will not be able to attend. Eric always had that goofy smile and would one right back on yours. I'll miss you Eric and I love you buddy. Take care your in God's hands now and I'm proud to have led you in that direction. Sincerely, Austin Bowers

“ This all still feels like one big nightmare, that none of us can seem to wake up from. You were one pretty amazing persin. I'm going to miss your random moments where you just busted out laughing for no reason, and you acting stupid to make everyone laugh. You're in a better place now, watch over us. love ya!!

“ Eric! Omg, I can't believe you're gone. You were such an amazing guy. We were always cutting up. You never failed to cheer everyone up and make us all laugh! I remember when you were trying to rescue the kitten and me and Ciera painted your toes pink. The last time we hungout was back there at you and Mandy's and I was picking on the way you sat because you sit so proper! Haha. That night was so fun! But you were a great person. You will be missed very very much! I love you. Rest in peace :)

“ Eric Joesph Navarre , I will miss your hugs and the goofy things you said and did! You are the best brother in law anyone could ever ask. You was the clown of the house you got on everybody's nerves sometimes but that doesn't mean nothing we still love you ! Me you and Mandy has so many memories together it's like I can't say them all. Eric I love you and it's gonna be he to get over that your gone but at least in know your in a better home now and your watching over every single one of if but mostly Mandy! Well fly high our beautiful we love we will meet again one day! Love you!!!

“ Eric, wow I cannot believe you've left this world. I remember being at work and you would come purchase drinks with Louis, you were always happy?, I don't think I had ever seen you sad. I remember going to parties and sometimes you would drive. You will be missed!

Benji - January 05, 2014 at 06:06 PM

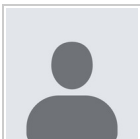

“ Eric i will miss you always making me happy when im upset. You country accent and us singing " Achy Breaky Heart" at my 15th birthday party and us painting your tie nails pink. I will w miss you giving me hugs everytime you seen me and it will never be the same you was and always will be the best brother-in-law a girl can have i love you.

“ Dear Kim & George, We just learned of your tragic loss and we are so sorry. My own heartache can never compare to yours, but I want you to know Eric was very special to me and he is always in my prayers. His charismatic personality and smile had a profound effect on so many. I was truly blessed and very proud to have him and, you Kim, in my life. May the mercy and comfort of God the Father, Jesus, and His Blessed Mother surround you and George as you carry this cross.
As always, you too, are in my prayers, Janeen

“ So sorry to hear of Eric's untimely passing. I can't imagine the heartache you are experiencing and I know that there are no words that will heal your broken heart right now. My boys enjoyed spending time at your home with Eric during their middle school years and we will never forget his charisma and smile. Your family is in our thoughts and prayers.

“ Dear Kim ~ praying for you and your family that God's love will comfort you and hold you close in this very painful time. Turn to the vision of God holding Eric in His arms and believe that you will be with him again. What an awesome gift God gave you when he brought your wonderful son into your life. Now he faces an amazing new journey in heaven. Much love. Tamara
