“ Wayne I am going to miss our Saturday conversations during the LSU football games. We would text and cheer our Tigers on every weekend they played. You were like a brother to me. We had many laughs together. I remember you coming to visit and us going on the golf course having a blast. We shard some great times. I saw you grow from a young boy into a dedicated Soldier, Husband, and Father. I remember all you ever wanted to do in life was fly. You were one of the few people in this world that was doing what they loved in life. Not only were you a pilot, but one of the best. Like they say at a military funeral. "Lets Take This Soldier Home". Good bye my friend an brother-in-law. Until we meet again. Dennis “ Rest easy, sleep well my brothers.

Know the line has held, your job is done.
Rest easy, sleep well.
Others have taken up where you fell, the line has held.
Peace, peace, and farewell...

The young dead soldiers do not speak. Nevertheless, they are heard in the still houses: who has not heard them? They have a silence that speaks for them at night and when the clock counts. They say: We were young. We have died. Remember us. They say: We have done what we could but until it is finished it is not done. They say: We have given our lives but until it is finished no one can know what our lives gave. They say: Our deaths are not ours: they are yours; they will mean what you make them. They say: Whether our lives and our deaths were for peace and a new hope or for nothing we cannot say, it is you who must say this. We leave you our deaths. Give them their meaning. We were young, they say. We have died. Remember us.
