

Jeremy Aaron McCarroll

October 18, 1989 - May 17, 2018

Jeremy, age 28, went to his heavenly home Thursday, May 17, 2018. He was a lifelong resident of Independence, LA. Jeremy was a loving husband and a devoted loving father. To support his family, Jeremy built scaffolding in industrial plants. He loved what he was doing for a living, and he took great pride in his work. In his teenage years, Jeremy was quite a good athlete who brought home a variety of sports trophies. First and foremost, Jeremy was always light-hearted and having fun. He enjoyed joking and laughing with all his family and friends. Jeremy loved hunting, but fishing was his number one hobby. Jeremy was an avid fisherman and if there is a fishing pond in heaven, no doubt, he has already caught his limit. Jeremy brought joy and happiness where ever he went, and his death has left a true sense of loss for all that knew and loved him.

Jeremy is survived by his loving wife, Sadie Anthony McCarroll; children, Molly Grace McCarroll and Carson Aaron McCarroll; parents, James Calvin McCarroll Sr. and Catherine Christen McCarroll; brother James "Jamie" Calvin McCarroll Jr. and wife Jacquelynn (Jackey) McCarroll; niece, Shyanne McCarroll; nephew, Hunter McCarroll; along with numerous aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Jeremy is preceded in death by his grandparents, Rose Christen, Violet and Vernon Christen, Patricia and Eugene S. McCarroll Sr.

“ My memory is meeting my, at the time wife's cousin. A real down kid who wasn't afraid to get down, whether it was work or a tackle football game. Funny and always smiling no matter the situation. Jeremy, you'll always be in my memories. Rest easy man. 🤝

“ Jeremy, I'm going to miss you so much. I'm still sorry for smacking you with that candle, it was meant to hit Kevin. I remember the other kids working and we couldn't find you. You were sleeping under my front steps to get out of the work being done. You would tell me big fishing and hunting stories. I am luckier than most of the family, I got to spend the most time with you. I was there the day you were born. The summers when your mom and I got joint custody of you and Kevin, even before you played football together. I played Eye of the Tiger at the shop and you remembered I played it on Saturdays to wake you guys up before football. games. You were embarrassed about your tummy being hairy and going bald, and looked at me with those sad puppy dog eyes. I told you some women find a hairy belly and a bald man sexy. You grinned from ear to ear. God gave me more time with you when we were at the shop and I am thankful for that. I feel safe knowing you are going to be watching over us. You always protected family. I love you nephew. Fly high! Until we meet again.

“ I have so many great memories of Jeremy. As kids, he and Jamie were more like brothers to my brothers and I. As adults, we all sort of drifted apart to do our own thing, but still crossed paths quite a bit. While Jeremy had a temper, what I remember about him most is that he was a genuinely happy human being most of the time. I loved his laugh and his smart mouthed comments and his jokes. Some of my favorite memories are when he and Kevin and Jamie used to come to my house on weekends to hang out and play Halo all night long. Jeremy would always have Jelly Belly jelly beans and we would dig through the bag picking out different flavors while spending hours playing Halo and talking crap. Fly high, little cousin. Until we meet again...

“ I have 28 years of memories with my big cuz, but here is one that is up there. We were about, 15 or 16 and Gene McCarroll jr had us coating the shed roof. He was doing everything right I was working in patches. right when he was finishing up he step back right into one of the areas I painted with coating and his flip flops send him flying all the way off the roof ,and airbourne. Crashing right into the lean-two on the left-side of the shed we busted out laughing ,then said you tried to kill me cuz. I really going to miss him he has been there at my worst time and at my greatest ,and made me strive for more greatness.
