“ My mother was so unique. She loved unconditionally and never turned her head when there was person in need. She would give her last dollar to help someone. She taught us that everyone was somebody and never put ourselves above others. And she was entertaining. As kids when we had long car rides to visit relatives in Baton Rouge or heading to a ball tournament or going on vacation she would sing us songs. Fun songs. I can still here her singing "in 1814 we took a little trip". Lol she was great. And for those who didn't know my mom was a beast at jeopardy. She could outplay any contestant on jeopardy. She loved that game and from all her book reading she was good at it. We were amazed at her intelligence. Yet she was a simple lady who raised five kids and taught each of them the greatest of all gifts. Love. Rest in peace my loving mother.

“ Goldie, I remember our class reunion a few years ago, at Jerry Leonard and Sheila Kinchen's camp. You and I had not seen each other for years, but we were best friends in childhood, and the memories came flowing back. You and I spent so many nites and weekends together. We were perfect friends. We laughed and cried at the reunion.

. I'd recently lost my oldest daughter, Suzanne, 4/2010, and there were so many emotional moments that evening. The one I most recall, is funny, you asked me to do something silly, like I used to do. I didn't know. So, you said, Jump off the porch. And, so I did Goldie, for old times sake, when we were girls, and teenagers, you and I had so much fun. I jumped for you. Women, in our 60[s. Still kids at heart. I'll always remember the fun, sweet, loving girl and woman you became, your dear childhood friend, Sandra Hano. God speed Goldie.
