“What a great neighbor to grow up across the street from and later become a great friend. As a teenager he always had a house full of girls and being we were the boys across the street, he knew who he had to watch out for. We could never get over on him but that didn't stop us from trying and he never let his guard down. Once I grew up, that may surprise some of you. He stopped by my house in Citrus City and asked Lynn where I was at? She told him I was out cutting grass, he knew this already because we had talked. He tells Lynn I was at the bar and then he gets in his truck and leaves. When I finished up cutting grass and go home Lynn asked where have I been? I said cutting grass and then she tells me an older gentleman in overalls stopped by. I said was he driving a blue truck? Lynn said yes he was and I told her don't believe anything he says and then I explained to her who he was. Another time I went to see him and Mrs. Martha at their new home. Mrs. Martha knew I was coming so when he opened the door he said Martha, guess who it is and said I don't know. He said it's Grayson and closed the door on me. Mrs. Martha told him, LV are you going to invite him in? He said I guess and opened the door. He took me to his back porch and showed me how he had winterized it and then he started telling me about his garden and all of the locals told him he couldn't grow anything up there. He sent his soil samples to LSU and found out what he needed and low and behold he was growing creole tomatoes and all kinds to goodies. What a fine young man he was, he always had good stories to tell. If you knew him, you loved him and that was the kind of guy he was. Mr. LV, my friend, you will be missed by all of us. Thank you for the friendship.

When we were little kids in Louisiana LV, who was our cousin-in-law used to tease us so much whenever we saw him. I always thought he was so funny. He and Martha have been special to me. I love you Martha and family. Know me and the rest of the siblings are thinking of you at this time! I am so glad Milford and I got to come down and spend a little time with you a few years back, along with Shelton, Bev and Phil. It was such a neat experience to be with you guys, and Mose and Rilla again!! Lots of love. Stella
