I hope this works, it's a gorgeous song that I have listened to several times because it reminds me of my late husband Kerry and now it's fitting for Aunt Linda. Love them both bunches!!

“ Are there really any words? Which of the thousands of memories should I tell of right now? I don't know where to begin. We all have our own and they are precious. Linda was my friend, a beautiful person who had a massive impact on my life and, although she didn't mean to, on everyone who crossed her path. She didn't judge, gave vast amounts of love and the best warmest and soothing hugs! Through thick and thin, we stuck together. I miss you.... So much.

I love you. Goodbye ma cherie. Tu me manques xxx

“ I don't even know where to begin. Linda Jo was my cousin and I loved her very much. I will remember her laugh, her independence, her fearlessness, and that she never met a stranger. Linda was full of energy and was always doing something, she didn't sit still for long. I have so many memories of her but if I had to pick one it would be in 1999 I had just returned home from having surgery and I was standing at the counter, she came up behind me and hugged so gently and I remember feeling the strength of her love for me at that moment. I will miss her very much but like so many others I am glad that she finally has arms around her baby boy again!

Dustie, Debbie, Misha and Kenneth and all of your families my heart breaks for you all and I pray that God will wrap his arms around you all and bring comfort and strength.

I love you

“ I remeber when I went to see Aunt Linda in Paris. I was stuck at the train station unable to remeber how to get to her home. As I was waiting from several blocks away my friend Barry said... Hey there's Aunt Linda. As I looked I said how can you tell.. The walk, she called it the Texas swing. It made girls want to be you and guys want you... I will always remember her walk.
