“ I will miss you my friend. Having a cold beer with you, traveling, the love we had for our Saints, for our city of NO. The fun we had at Mardi Gras, St. Patty's Day and all the good times in between, big fun. What I will miss most of all is talking with you about music. Cheers to having a beer with you again one day,

I miss you Mike, you were the love of my life. But two fire signs were too hot to last and we had to part ways. I'll never forget you and the short time we had together. I'll see you on the other side. Your first wife.

“ To show how small this world is... I met my friend Mike while both of us served our country in the USAF. We both went to the same high school. We didn't know each other then, but met him at MacDill AFB. Mike and I became quick friends. I, (as most might admit) he was the most unique, and genuine person I've ever known. You never had to wonder what was on his mind...he'd tell ya! Mike had visited me a few months ago. During that visit, he recalled a funny story of him and I on the Flightline. By the time he finished the recollection...I was literally unable to breathe from laughing so hard. Mike (Capt Stewbing) was a great friend to me. The world will be a little boring without him. I'll remember you forever, dude!

“ There are way too many memories of Mikey from back at MacDill Air Force Base, to name just one. But I will say at work and away from work there was never a dull moment, this man loved life to the fullest, and he let you know if you are a friend how much he appreciated you no doubt. Mikey you will be truly missed my brother! 👍🍀🇺🇸📷

I was married to Mike briefly in the late 1980's. I'm so sorry to hear of his passing. The news was a shock to say the least. He was always so active and healthy, jogging and tennis trying to keep me in shape. He was a hard worker at the Airlines and we moved to Tulsa together, it was an adventure. I'm sad even though we've been apart for many years and our lives took different paths, I was happy to learn of his recent marriage. I'm saddened for his widow and hope God gives her strength and courage to carry on.
