“ Jim, Shawn Paul and Patrick....My deepest condolences on the loss of your precious wife and Mom. I was heartsick when I heard the news. I'm so very sorry it has taken me this long to reach out, but I am fighting a huge battle myself so please forgive me. I will never forget "Trish the Dish". Or our trip to a private island in Belize. We had such a great time! That's all I wish to elaborate on but know time will heal your pain. It doesn't seem like it now, but it will. MUCH LOVE TO ALL OF YOU, Vicki

“ Dear Jim & family, I'm sending my deepest sympathies to you and family. I apologize for being a little belated in doing so. I'm not on Facebook so I found out about Trish passing through other XJT fl. atts. I so cherish the time Trish and I stayed in contact after us both retiring. She'll be in heart and thoughts always. And her family in my prayers. Sincerely Kathy Vedder

“ Trish the Dish, roomie, other names I can't say, bestie.....

We would talk for hours. We laughed. We cried. We lipped sync to the 'Spice Girls' and danced in the hallways of the "treatment center". We drank waaay too much wine at times. Vicki and I lined your entire bed and pillow with newspapers then waited until you tried to get into bed without waking everyone up in the crashpad. You talked to yourself, quietly I might add, while trying to figure out why your bed was making noise. Vicki and I just couldn't keep the laughter bottled up any longer. It wasn't all laughter though. There were times we wanted to choke the hell out of each other. Those times usually lasted a few hours. I could go on forever. My heart breaks. You will forever live in my memory, but more importantly, in my heart. I will never ever forget you. I love you, sister!
