“ Happy Birthday Mommy! Today my mom would have made 39 years old. We all know she is having a Happy Birthday in Heaven. I love my mom and hope she has a great birthday. She was a great person and to this day my family and I love her dearly. Even though we can't see her we still know she watches over us and cares just as much about us as we do about her. Well Happy Birthday Mom and we love you!##imported-begin##Parker, her daughter##imported-end##

“ My mom was already in the hospital with my Grandmother and my Aunt Sherri by her side. She had been really sick. Well, my Grandmother was just talking to her and a nurse walked in to take a blood test and she asked for my Grandmother to step out of the room. She told her she loved her and she would be back in the room in not too long. After that my Aunt Sherri went in to check on her. My mom said "Sherri where is mom at?" My Aunt Sherri said "Right outside the door." The last words that my mom said were "Please go get her." Then my Aunt Sherri went to go get her. But, before my Grandmother could even get inside the door my mom's heart stopped beating. The last thing I ever told my mom was "Bye I love you momma." At an OCS office. I wasn't with her when she passed away. But, that was the past and we just need to look forward to a good future. And on the way she will guide us##imported-begin##Parker Booty##imported-end##
