“Wow, it is hard to express my memories of Tommy because there are many. I want people to know that he was amazing and truly loved his family. My husband Ray Warner was Tommy's younger brother. Ray and Norma Gayle lost their dad at a very young age, and Tommy step up to fill that void of a father for them. I have the most admiration and gratitude for the love and compassion he showed my Ray. They were very close and respected each other with pride. Tommy was our light and a true guardian to us all. I am so thankful that on Ray's last day of life that Tommy spent the day out with him. I remember talking to Ray that late evening and him telling me what a wonderful day he and Tommy had visiting and talking with each other. Tommy, you have touched my heart and I will always love you. Rest in peace now and be with all your loved ones that you had to endure the pain of losing them. What a day in heaven that will be. I'll see you again. Love always, Cathy Warner.
