“ Tim and I went to grammar/high/college schools together and were beer buddies in the lates 60s. He was bright, articulate, witty, generous, and had a hollow leg. We had a "brush with greatness" one night at a joint on Carrollton Avenue called the Bamboo Villa where we watched a folk group while Roy Orbison sat at the next table.

Tim called me about ten years ago; we planned to get together on one of his frequent advocacy trips to Baton Rouge. Forgive me for saying, in words Tim would appreciate, time is an unforgiving b*st*rd!

I'm sure Tim would want to know what took me so long to find out he was gone.

“ Mr. Tim was a very funny man. I remember when I first met him, me and his boys went to school together, he commented on my name, Dawn. One can only imagine the comment(s) about "waking up to....). That was him, he always had a way to make you smile or laugh. Even for Prom, his comments were hysterical when we were all taking pictures at my house. That is how I remember him, with a smile on his face and joke ready to be told. Even my son, remembers meeting him during a visit for a family reunion and was making him laugh telling him jokes and advice about having a beer and making a lady happy. My son couldn't stop laughing and shaking his head. What a great man!

“ I knew Mr. Tim through our work with La Dads. His love and devotion to his son, grandson, and his entire family was tireless and inspiring. He was a man of kindness and wisdom. I could listen to him for hours and learn something new with every sentence. The way he looked at life and the advice he gave and the way he would address problems will be greatly missed. He could run circles around the best lawyers in Baton Rouge and do it with a smile. He was a mentor and a friend and in the short time I knew him I learned a lot. I just wish we lived closer so I could have known him better.

“ In memory of one of the few men that has always inspired me to be a better man, a better husband, a better father, a better friend, and a better person.

Mr. Tim Patrick, a man I can honestly say was true friend and an inspiration to all who knew him.

You were always a better friend to me than I was in return. GOD BLESS YOU TIM !!!!

GOD has finally got HIM the best attorney orator anyone could ask for.

All my Love and respect to a man I most admire.

Mr. Tim called my office many times when he had something political on his mind. Once he realized I was friends with Cody and Christine he really let me have it. When the Congressman would hold town hall meetings Mr. Tim was right there in the front row asking Steve what the hell was going on in Washington DC and what was he going to do to fix it? I will miss those phone calls, rest in peace my friend.

I was deeply saddened to hear of Tim's passing. He was such a nice guy. Tim was always at the house in St. Rose when we visited and, to me, was a beloved member of the Varvaro family. My condolences to all who knew and loved Tim.
