“ I remember William from elementary school at Prytania Private in 1966 until I transferred in 1973. He was always friendly and I remember sometimes stayed to himself. We sometimes would prank one another which one time lead to a little scrap between us as kids would once in awhile do. He was always very likeable. I didn't see or hear of him after 1973 but have fond memories of our school days. I wish I could have stayed in contact over the years. My condolences to his family, friends and co-workers. “ At Sonny Bono's funeral, Cher mentioned an article in Reader's Digest about the most interesting character we've ever met. There were in my life, but Bo definitely tops the list.

When I first met him in the seventh grade, I didn't know what to make of him. It was 1970 and most of the boys had longish hair. Bo had a short cut and his shirt was freshly pressed. He was so friendly you couldn't help but like him.

Bo never met anyone that he didn't consider to be a friend. One day, I lost my lunch money and he noticed that I wasn't eating. He went right to the lunch lady and bought me a slice of pizza and a soda. That was Bo.

Through the years, we lost touch. Yet we we remet on Facebook, it was as if no time had passed. I will miss him. His wife, Fay and his children have my love and prayers.

“ One of the most memorable things with Bo was the three way phone conversation that we had with Mark Adams and have laughed so much! It was so happy to have that memory of the old days.
