“ Thinking back when I stayed 3 weeks in Denham Springs with Sis when Mam-Maw / Aunt Inez was in the nursing home. Wewe would lay in bed talking a ought family and the good ole days. So thankful I got to visits her a few weeks ago. My thoughts and prayer are with all her family. Wish I could have made it down but still need some work done on my vehicle before I get on the road.

“ I will miss my Beloved and Dear Friend. I still haven't quite grabbed hold to the fact that your truly gone. But I know you have been ready for quite sometime. The struggles here in life can become overwhelming at times but you always held strong to your faith and trust in God. That was a quality I so admired in you. You were beautiful in every sense, and beautiful inside and out. Everyone who knew you knew that. I will always be grateful to you for the joy and love you brought into dad's life. You lifted his spirits many a day a long the way and he loved you dearly. Our family will always appreciate the role you played in his life and the blessing. You have been a dear and beloved friend of mine for many a year and we have laughed and cried along the way. But I know your finally at home now and can rest peacefully in the Arms of Your Loving Father. You will be missed dearly. Your loving friend.

“ Every since there was a Internet, computer Zillah was way ahead in knowledge & being Able to use one! Each day one of her daily Activities was to check the obituaries! We were @ a time in life when so many people we knew from school or growing up in the Hammond area! She would first say "we'll I Don't see my name, so it's a good day "! Them she would laugh in a laugh no one could mistake for anyone else! Well today I found your name, it's heartbreaking to see In black & white that one of my dearest friends was now gone! A true friend, there for you in anyway, any time! My friend I hope your are resting in the arms of God! Love you Girl, miss you terribly already!
